Farewell from the Queen

Dear Stephenson County,

I would like to first thank you for this amazing opportunity, it has shaped me and helped me become a better me. When I got crowned last year, I didn't think this year would go by so fast but here we are, but it's okay because all good things come to an end. I am so thankful that I will get to keep these memories and forever long connections that I have made.

That being said I would like to express my gratitude to several people. Thank you to the fair board and the pageant committee for this opportunity and all of the support. Thank you to Cindi for being an amazing pageant director, and for doing my hair and makeup at the state pageant. Thank you Tricia and Erin for being the best bodyguards at every event. Especially Tricia at the state pageant, caring all of my things and making sure I was always in the right place and on time. Thank you to Gary for always knowing how to make me smile or laugh and keeping the mood light when we were at the state pageant. Thank you to Mrs. Mandy for being an amazing event coordinator. Thank you to Shelby and Mrs. Cross for introducing me to the pageant and always being there when I needed help. Lastly I would like to thank my Little Miss and Jr. Miss you made the year so much fun and I truly felt like I gained two more sisters.

Finally thank you to everyone that was there through the entire journey, learning to walk in heels, wearing dresses, and even building my confidence. There is so many once in a lifetime memories that I now have due to this amazing opportunity and I encourage anyone to try it. Some of my favorite memories were when we helped sell 50/50 tickets at the car show for leader dogs for the blind, going into classrooms to introduce agriculture to kids, and helping hand out trophies at the derby.

The Stephenson County fair has been my home for once a week in the summer ever since I was born, but this year is where I truly got to fully experience the fair. I am glad I get to call Stephenson County my home. Goodbyes are sad but this is not a true goodbye because I know I will always have a place in Stephenson County whether it be in the cattle barns or the pageant tent.

Forever and always,
Your 2023 Miss Stephenson County Fair Queen,
Jasmine Brinkmeier

STEPHENSON COUNTY 4-H

4-H is a youth organization that belongs to the members, their families, and other interested adults who serve as volunteer leaders. Professional leadership is provided by University of Illinois Extension staff. Support for 4-H programs is a joint effort of local organizations, county government, the University of Illinois, and the United States Department of Agriculture.

In 4-H, youth ages 5 to 18 share, grow, and learn together from various projects, events, and activities in informal situations under the guidance of their families and other volunteer adult leaders. 4-H members can decide what they want to learn about by selecting 4-H projects that interest them. Group activities and events such as trips, camps, fairs, shows and workshops provide additional learning experiences and opportunities.

4-H is open to all youth and adult volunteers regardless of their race, color, religion, gender, racial origin, ancestry, marital status, sexual orientation, or disability. Most 4-H clubs have meetings for the entire membership once a month. During these meetings, decisions are made about group sponsored activities such as community service efforts, project opportunities, and fund-raising.

The major focus of 4-H is on youth development. Providing youth with an opportunity to develop and practice leadership, citizenship, communication, presentation, and social skills is an integral part of their 4-H experience. In addition to club-level activities, youth are offered developmental experiences at the county, state, and national levels. 4-H Youth Development Educators and Program Coordinators provide structure, guidance, and support to 4-H youth, parents, and volunteers. Participants have fun learning, working, and succeeding together in their homes, communities, and beyond.

In Stephenson County, the 4-H program is administered by University of Illinois Extension. The office is located in Building R on the Highland Community College campus in Freeport. Staff members include:

- Margaret Larson, Multi-County Director

THE BENEFITS OF 4-H PARTICIPATION

Research has shown that children who are exposed to each of the following eight critical elements over prolonged periods of time are most positively impacted by youth program efforts. Youth impacted in this way are more likely to:

- Report recognition for good grades
- Graduate from high school
- Go to college
- Feel good about themselves
- Indicate higher levels of self-efficacy
- View themselves as effective and in control
- Find a job they enjoy
- Value community service

4-H's objective is to consciously help youth develop and obtain the eight critical elements for a fulfilling future. The eight critical elements that are linked to such success include:

1. A positive relationship with a caring adult
2. A welcoming, inclusive environment
3. A physically and psychologically safe environment
4. An appropriately structured environment
5. Opportunities to achieve competency and mastery
6. Opportunities for self-determination
7. Opportunities to value and practice service to others
8. Active participation in the future

As a 4-H member, one can expect to learn life skills such as leadership, commitment & follow-through, listening skills, communication skills, teamwork skills, and self-confidence. Through the program a member can also take various 4-H projects such as: Aerospace, Visual Arts, Forestry, Interior Decorating, Food & Nutrition, and Woodworking; but that's not all. We have over 175 projects available for youth to choose from. Our program functions with the assistance of active volunteers, which helps us provide a hands-on learning atmosphere. 4-H actively believes in the difference youth can make in our world, and we value the eight elements and how they can guide us in providing a quality, positive learning experience for all youth. For more information about the Stephenson County 4-H Program, please contact the University of Illinois Extension Office at (815) 235-4125.
